

WE NOMINATE

Pleasant Jefferson Conkwright, one of the country's most respected book designers and often described as "master of the art of printing," who has been singularly honored by his alma mater, the century-old University of Kentucky. In connection with its centennial observance, Kentucky embarked upon an unusual inventory, a review of the records of its entire alumni body, and then the establishment of a Hall of Distinguished Alumni. Over a span of several years the records of some 40,000 men and women were carefully "researched," several hundred were "nominated" and a comparative handful of 156, including the 61-year-old Conkwright, were designated Distinguished Alumni.

The winner of more awards from the American Institute of Graphic Arts than any other book designer in the nation, Conkwright is rounding out his third decade as Typographer of Princeton University Press and remains unimpressed by the kudos he has earned. Like any artist he still aspires to complete the perfect work. To do this, Conkwright, designer of both "The Papers of Thomas Jefferson" and "The Papers of Woodrow Wilson," feels it necessary "to translate the author's message into the most suitable type, in the most readable manner; quietly to interpret and help the author, but in no way to distract or to interfere with the content."

Elected to membership in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 1959 in the company of artist Ben Shahn, author Joseph Wood Krutch and educator Harold Willis Dodds, this soft-spoken Princetonian is known throughout the publishing world as "P.J." Several years ago, in connection with a "one-man show" of his work here in the Firestone Library, this succinct evaluation came from Cambridge University, England: "Aware of contemporary developments in design on both the East and West coasts, P.J.

has evolved a style which is almost unmistakably his own. This achievement is all the more remarkable in a man who so faithfully follows a dictum that self-effacement is the etiquette of the good printer."

Conkwright, born in the Oklahoma Indian Territory town of Bristow, stirs memories of the adage of "printer's ink in the blood." The son of a Southern Baptist clergyman and reared in Sapola, Okla., he was striking off his father's church bulletins on a small press at home before he was 12. His next publishing venture was a Boy Scout newspaper for which he accumulated limited quantities of type. In fact, at the outset there was just enough type to set and print one paragraph at a time. However, he kept gathering bits of fonts and finally — at age 16 — issued his first rate card as a job printer.

After gaining practical experience in both printing and engraving plants and studying at the National Academy of Commercial Art in Chicago, he rounded out his formal education at Kentucky with the Class of 1928. A year later he was called to the then newly organized, and now prestigious, University of Oklahoma Press and in the mid-1930's began collecting honors for his distinctive book-designs. While serving successively in the shop, proof room, editorial offices and design department, he made time for graduate work and, in qualifying for his Master's Degree at the University of Oklahoma, completed an excellently received study of modern American printing.

For his self-effacing devotion to the "greater glory of scholarship and the art of typography"; for helping literally hundreds of authors present their texts in the most readable and effective manner; for the "blend of good manners, good taste and wit" which shines through his work; he returns to TOWN TOPICS' cover as

PSUKAY STARTS MOVING

Toward Top of the Mountain.

"You don't have kids shooting for the big goals here — which is strange, considering what the community has to offer."

The words are those of a woman from the deep South, Bernice Reagon, one of the original Freedom Singers of 1962 who has worked this summer with Princeton Negro children from 5 to 18 in a manner that has never touched them before.

At St. Andrew's on Thursday, restless girls waiting for their cooking class broke off into a game of tag. "Ladies . . . Ladies," was Bernice's calm, low-voiced statement. The children quiet, head back to their work tables.

"About Bernice, it's hard to say in words," the Rev. Harold Thomas of Witherspoon Street Church and president of the Psukay board remarks slowly. "I think she lives the kind of thing that she is trying to convey to them—pride in race and dignity. They can see this in her."

"I find there's a basic lack of self-confidence among the children. I've aimed at trying to work with them in projects where they can instantly see that they can do something well . . ."

All Witherspoon Street was startled one day to see an informal parade of little girls carrying loaves of braided bread. Proud of their handiwork, they were carrying their bread the longest way home.

"When I saw them, every PSUKAY TRIES ANOTHER: In flour up to their elbows, young members of Psukay learn to bake a lemon meringue pie. From left are Joanne Fuschini, 7; Sheree Pitman, 10; Kim Parks, 8; Kathy Pitman, and behind them are Mrs. Gordon Maek and Mrs. Robyn Simmons. child had a pie—walking along Witherspoon Street with a hot pie!" Mrs. Alexander Hoagland of the Psukay board adds. "And I must say that was delicious bread the week before."

"I pull people off the street. I say can you cook — can you sew? It has never been organized. But just the kids' reaction shows that a lot can be done — and it has to be done."

Psukay ventures of the summer include making lasagna and beef Stroganoff in the

Born in Albany, Ga., the daughter of a Baptist minister, Bernice Reagon was studying Afro-American music at Spelman College in Atlanta when the civil rights movement captured her. A professional singer since 1962, she has performed in Carnegie Hall and Town Hall in New York, at folk fes

Effective with the current issue, a charge of ten cents per copy will be made for TOWN TOPICS at all newsstands in Princeton.

In the two decades since TOWN TOPICS began to publish, all costs have risen steadily, and the luxury of giving away an endless supply of a newspaper running from 40 to 72 pages must in some measure be abated.

As has been the policy for the past 21 years, a copy will continue to be delivered free to every home and place of business with a Princeton address. Newsstand copies will also continue to be made available without charge in nearby communities, where there is no house-to-house delivery.

cooking class and sewing reversible ponchos using sewing machines for the first time. A group went in two station wagons to visit HARYOU in New York.

Professional dancer Rod Rogers comes down from New York every Friday afternoon to work with the modern dance class. There was a trip to the Music Circus.

The planned "bicycle club" became the "bicycle clinic" under Herb and Larry McGuinn where bikes are being repaired so that club rides can begin. There's an art class that has done beautiful things under the guidance of Mrs. Ruth Sharon.

Jimmy Floyd, a student at Princeton and son of Mr. and Mrs. James Floyd, has organized the boys' sports, including swims at the Community Park pool during the early morning hours when its free, baseball games at Community Park and basketball at "the black top" on John Street. Fishing trips around Princeton will be supplemented by a special trip off Barnegat Light all day on Tuesday.

The youngsters have learned "All About Us" through films and discussion with Bernice and Jimmy. There was an Afro-American folk troupe, a discussion of the African slave trade and Negro history.

Herb McGuinn, who founded Psukay last fall, rounded up a group of Princeton University students and others to meet for tutoring and counseling needs. Every two weeks the tutors meet to discuss their work.

"When I got here, there was no program at all. The problem is to make Negro children able to compete in school. Too many of constructive to do this summer." The Rev. Mr. Thomas adds, "She's a woman of tremendous charm and ability. On top of this, she has the gift of being able to communicate with the kids. My feeling is that without the Pseukay program, many of them would have just wandered around all summer."

The Pseukay drama group, trained by Georgine Hall, joined Bernice in last Sunday's Sermon in Folk Song which packed St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church back to the foyer. Garbed in African togas over Sunday best clothes, the singers and speakers gave an unforgettable performance.

"I find that most of them have never appeared before an audience. Pseukay is a supportive program to back them up. It's rough to complete if you haven't people behind you."

"We're trying to pull together some of the parents. I know they're interested, because they send me money and the things I need. But they've never been organized, and I don't have time to telephone because I'm so busy!"

The Pseukays, about 100 strong ("We didn't reach as many of the older children as we'd like," Mr. Thomas says. "Most of them have jobs"), will hold a three-day Summer Festival, beginning with a free concert by Bernice next Wednesday. (See Calendar of the Week.) On the 28th they plan a fun trip to a beach or an amusement park.

Soon after, the Pseukay board hopes to be able to announce the appointment of its first full-time director, with Herb McGuinn moving into a new post as assistant to the pastor of Witherspoon Church, while continuing his studies at Princeton Seminary.

Bernice Reagan leaves on the 31st for a concert in Chicago. Then she will begin organizing the three-day workshops on Afro-American history, "The Missing Pages of World History," to be held in schools and colleges around the country under the auspices of the National Council of Negro Women.

She will never be forgotten by her "kids" in Princeton, or by their parents or by the Negro and white members of the community who have worked with her. In the words of one of her songs:

"Climbin' up the mountain, children.

Didn't come here for to stay.
 If I never, never see you again
 I'll meet you on the Judgment Day."

TO BREAK GROUND

For Skillman School. Governor Hughes will break ground this Thursday for a new State Training School for Boys in Skillman. Also attending the ceremony will be Albert C. Wagner, director of the State Division of Correction and Parole, and Dr. Alfred B. Vuculo, superintendent of the Training School.

The school, which will cost more than $4 million, will accept boys from 8 to 13 who have been judged delinquent by county juvenile courts. The new facility is designed to eliminate overcrowding at the Jamesburg State Home for Boys and to allow juvenile officials to separate young offenders from older delinquents.

The boys will be housed in 12 brick cottages. The school will have a capacity of 200 with 17 boys in each cottage.

The main building will house a library, classrooms, shops, food service facilities, music rooms, medical facilities, an auditorium - gymnasium, an indoor swimming pool and facilities for administration and treatment.

A school building will provide facilities for small academic and remedial classes, arts and crafts and psychiatric and psychological services. An all-faith chapel with a capacity of 100 will also be built.

PEACE CORPS TEST SET

TEENS GET LOUNGE
 From Borough. Princeton's teen-agers can move right into the Community Building on Witherspoon Street as soon as the Borough Engineering Department moves out—probably early in September.
 Mayor Henry S. Patterson made the announcement this week at his press conference. It was one of a basket-full of progress reports on youth, traffic, parking, housing and the State of the Borough generally.

The actual lease between the Borough and Princeton Youth Center, Inc. is still in third-draft stage, but Mayor Patterson said that he and Mrs. Raymond F. Male, president of the Center's Adult Board, saw no reason why the young tenants can't move into the basement as soon as possible and roll up their sleeves for the future.

The United Fund, which has offices in the building, will be invited to remain until mid-October, when the Fund campaign is over, Mayor Patterson said.

The Center is still looking for a full-time executive director who will be willing to work a 40-hour-plus week. Mrs. Male says she hopes the Center can be open four nights a week from 3 until 10, and two nights a week from 2 until midnight.

A "THANK YOU" FOR OFFICER BENKERT: Young Florence Bineau, who owes her life to Patrolman Allen R. Benkert, joins Borough officials as they present Ptl. Benkert with the community's "thank you." better than anyone hoped. He added that much of Mr. Marshall's suggestions is that University undergraduates aim their good works toward Princeton High School and the Hun School, not always toward Trenton or New Brunswick teen-agers. Simple dialogues involving exchange of information and ideas between the two groups would be very helpful, Mr. Marshall has suggested.

The team of experts—sociologists, psychologists, guidance people, community leaders—was assembled after a meeting held in December at the invitation of Mayor Patterson to discuss town-gown teen problems.

Town-Gown. The team of "experts" named in January to ponder the relationships between the town teen-agers and University undergraduates may have concrete suggestions that can go into action around Labor Day.

Mayor Patterson said he was scheduled to bear some of these suggestions on Tuesday at a meeting with Victor Marshall, University graduate student hired to do footwork for the group, and Dr. Suzanne Keller, visiting lecturer in sociology at the University, who is chairman.

Mr. Marshall has been interviewing police, high school students, members of youth groups and leaders of youth groups, and has established excellent rapport with them all, the mayor said.

He added that much of Mr. Marshall's data may never be published in a formal report, simply because it is an in-depth study, almost confidential in nature.

Parking. Another team of experts has been looking over parking solutions in other towns. Ricardo Mestres, for Princeton University; Robert F. Mooney, Borough Administrator; Arthur P. Morgan, chairman of the Planning Board; Alan Frank for the Chamber of Commerce, and Mayor Patterson, have explored Plainfield, N. J. and Allentown, Pa., and have a portfolio of ideas.

The next step is to see whether the parking proposals made by the Borough's planners, Raymond & May, are workable and economically possible. The planning firm suggested multi-level parking garages.

Such a feasibility study might be financed largely by the business community. Mayor Patterson suggested, with next year's Planning Board budget picking up part of the expense — maybe 20%. The mayor likes the idea of such cooperation between the Borough and business: "It's better when everyone has a stake," he observed.

Housing. "This should be done on a community basis, not as separate Borough Township action," Mayor Patterson said, in regard to using the state's new housing law for low middle income housing in Princeton.

He said he has conferred with David Haggood and Seymour Alpert, members of an informal committee set up to find sponsors and form the required corporation. Under terms of the law, a municipality's governing body must make a declaration of need, and the mayor wants to see joint action by Borough Council and Township Committee.

He admitted to some reservations about application of the new law to Princeton, but he added, "We owe it to the community to take a look at it."

THE MAILS: ROUND TWO

Postal Hearing Continued. A warning that the Federal government can get the land it wants for a Princeton post office by condemnation, erect a building with Federal money, legally disregard local set-back and parking requirements and leave the municipality without a postage stamp of tax money, came out loud and clear Monday night at the Township Zoning Board's second round of hearings on the proposed North Harrison Street post office.

A third session will be held this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Township Hall. Like the first and second, it is expected to last until midnight.

The condemnation reminder came from Arthur Parsons, a national real estate officer for the Post office Department, who has become a familiar figure around Township Hall over the years at various meetings concerning a new Princeton post office.

Mr. Parsons was one of the witnesses presented by the Thanet Corporation, which owns the five-acre parcel on North Harrison and would like to lease it on a 20-year basis to the Post Office Department.

How Much in Taxes? Just how much money this arrangement would bring the Township in the form of taxes has not been revealed at these hearings. Ridgely Cook, president of Thanet, was asked the question by John W. Devine, attorney for a group of neighbors opposing the project.

Before Mr. Cook could reply, John P. Scozzari, counsel for the Zoning Board, said the question was not relevant. But Garrett Heher, attorney for Thanet, told Mr. Scozzari that a recent court decision allowed the matter of rateables to be introduced in special-use applications. The question now awaits a conference between Mr. Heher and Mr. Scozzari.

Legal footwork of this nature characterized most of Monday's four and one-half hour hearing. On one side is the Thanet Corporation. On the other are residents, some of whom are represented by Mr. Devine, some of whom represent themselves.

They are concerned about the size of the new post office building, its location on the site and the traffic and noise it might generate. The lot is in the Township's engineering-research zone.

Mr. Parsons referred to the Princeton post office as a "sub-urban delivery unit" characterized chiefly by incoming mail, and not requiring big tractor-trailer trucks.

He told the Board the building would be set back 190 feet from North Harrison with its platform 600 feet back, plenty of landscaped screening, 34 parking spaces in front and 87 in the rear.

T. C. Allen, Terhune Road, protested that the farther back the building is on the lot, the worse it would be for him, and he told the Zoning Board that he already hears the early-morning garbage truck at Opinion Research Corporation and the air-conditioner at American Can.

How Do You Figure? Mr. Devine pressed both Mr. Parsons and Charles A. Reiss, chief of space requirements for this post office region, to describe precisely how the post office arrives at its determinations of space and parking needs.

He also asked Mr. Reiss the exact date of a 1967 post office survey. When Mr. Reiss said the report and therefore by extension its date, were confidential, Mr. Devine asked Russell Van Cleve, Zoning Board chairman, to subpoena the document and its date.

Mr. Devine did not say whether he will follow through with a formal request to the Board to subpoena this and other post office documents.

turday evenings at 8:30.
The play's humor evolves from its timeless theme — the conflicts in one family between members of one generation and the next. In the cast are Phil Burket, of Groverville, Holly Hillman, Nancy Naylor, Jaline Flanagan, Jeremy Wein, Nina Thompson, Stan Lutz and Virginia Quinlan, all from the

with a single rain date on

Young Mr. Lithgow
John Lithgow, Harvard
'67 and Princeton High School '63, has "a future in the theatre."
The judgment came last week from Dan Sullivan, theatre critic of the New York Times, commenting on young Mr. Lithgow's portrayal of Lincoln in a new play, "White House Happening." The play, by Lincoln Kirstein, had its world premiere in Harvard's Loeb Drama Center with a student cast.
The play presents an unorthodox view of the president; in fact, the critic described Mr. Lithgow by saying "Nasty is the word for this Lincoln and he is well played by John Lithgow, who graduated from Harvard this year and has a future in the theatre."
The young actor-director-producer was the moving force behind last year's summer theatre attempt at Princeton Day School which was rained out by the Township Zoning Board.
Mr. Lithgow's father is Arthur Lithgow, executive director of McCarter Theatre.

Center's McAlpin Rehearsal Room.
The sonatas will be performed by Joel Lester, the Orchestra's concertmaster, and Robert Freeman, its conductor.
Mr. Lester is a second-year graduate student in music and a violin student of Ivan Gala-mian. Mr. Freeman is an assistant professor of music at the University.
The concert is open to the public without charge.

GARDEN and PRINCE Luv (now playing) is a broadly hilarious, odd-ball farce about luv and marriage, based on the long-running play
by Murray Schisgal.

Filling the basic stage roles in the film version are comedian Jack Lemmon, cast as a neurotic about to extinguish his meaningless life with a quick plunge off Manhattan Bridge.
Peter Falk, his outwardly successful high school chum who comes on the scene in time to save his life and prolong his misery, and Elaine May, Falk's unappetizing shrew of a wife who keeps a chart of their "sexual experiences" and confronts her husband with a statistical depression.

The problems of all three center around the unsuccessful, thwarted search for "love,"
not the normal workaday kind, but "luv" of the highly romantic, bells-ringing variety that you see in the movies.
The search for Life's Great Adventure brings in Nina Wayne, as Linda, the sexy but totally lazy gym teacher who was discussed but never seen in the Broadway version.
It's a lightweight entry with both satiric and slapstick humor. (Green Sheet: suggested for adult audiences.)

PLAYHOUSE Up the Down Staircase (now playing). Seldom has book seemed less amenable to screen adaption than Bel Kaufman's best-seller. Written as a teacher recounting her experiences in an inner city school,

IT'S NEW To Us

BRIM-FULL OF FUN
Papier-mache Hats. Maybe you've never worn a hat in your life, which isn't surprising because Till Miller never did, either. But once you see a hat by Till, you'll never be a bare-head again.

Hat by Till are those giddy delights you've seen at Deer and Pheasant in Princeton, and at Serendipity and Indispensible Disposables in New York.
You'll see them soon in Vogue, if you remembered to renew your subscription, and you may have seen them at Lily Dache's, if that's where you go hat-shopping.

Till's hats are compounded of layers of colored tissue, formed around hat molds Mrs.
Miller made herself, or around one of the eight charming old crowns she bought in second-hand stores. The undulating brims are made around molds of metal or hardware cloth, and the results ...!

A wild, hot royal blue ... a giddy kelly green that will be high as a star next Christmas when Till decorates it with tinsel ... a snug little cloche that defies the current Garbo brim trend.

"So far, they've all been one-of-a-kind," Mrs. Miller says, "and I hope to keep it that way."

This means you can get her to make a hat just for you, like the hat she made from a Greek newspaper, or the one — the real collector's item —
she made for Eugenia Shepherd, the New York World Journal Tribune fashion columnist, out of Miss Shepherd's stories in the last issues of the World J.T.

Our favorite is a charmer made mostly from the financial news pages of the New York Times. This makes kind of a monotone hat, what with all the columns of stock quotations, so Till has punched it up a little with ad headlines:
"Why Some People Never Lose Their Zip," reads one. "Sex and Sexuality: the Crucial Difference," reads another, and right there in front in big letters, it says "Uncertainty."

Think what Till could do for an anniversary, or a birthday.
Can't you imagine the confetti and the rice

We go into all this detail to show you that the hats, in case you've met them before, are not just a summer romance. When the garden party has withered into fall, you can wear another decorative hat to complement your best autumn cocktail dress or a football tweed.

Colors are limitless, by the way. Till's swatch of tissues is very thick indeed, and if you want to have a layer of emerald with a layer of saph-

NEED A NEW HAT? When Till Miller needs a new hat all she has to do is make one from thin layers of tissue in vibrant colors. She'd like to make one for you, too. The one she's wearing is black with a white cavalier's feather. The one on the mold is black and ripe cherry, made by her young daughter, Allison. Mrs. Miller also has four high-school helpers who know how to turn a flaring brim. See
"It's New to Us."

hire, or an eggplant brim under a black top, why not?

Prices start at $16, but of course, if you want a cartwheel three feet across, cantilevered like something out of Expo, you might have to pay a little more. Call Mrs. Miller at 921-8405 and talk it over.

If you're curious about this skillful craftsman, you'll be amused to learn that fashion never entered her head until she got started on hats. A silversmith and a weaver, a painter and a collector of antique tools, she bought her first hat form because of its structural interest, and she went right on from there.

JACKETS, WAY DOWN
Come On In, Mother. Ladies who think that Ladybug means Teenybop will be pleasantly surprised by the fall collection of suits at the Ladybug Villager shop.

Sure, the high school fresh men and the college sophomores are spending summer job money right and left at Ladybug, but this fall there are styles even a mother can love.

Take one of the new long-jacket suits as the prime example. Jackets are longer and slightly more fitted, some in single-breasted some in double-breasted styles, lapels notched in a move from the dewy-eyed round collar, slits in the side for action and swagger.

Here's an olive-gold tweed with leather buttons (comes in russet or blue, too, although Ladybug prefers "Apple," "Dutch" and "Bittersweet" as color descriptions.)

Here's a blazer-style in a soft gold-russet-brown wool stripes, long and hip-hugging to snuggle against the matching pants or the Bermudas. A skirt has been made of the same tweed cut aslant, with strong stripes going from left hip to right hem. Wouldn't go very well with the jacket, but with a solid brown top, it's devastating.

A wool dress is ribbed round and round like corduroy, with a low and snaky self belt, no sleeves and a panel of double breasted buttons down the front from a pointed collar. Comes in copen, navy or grey.

The same fabric, mustard this time, has been used for a long-sleeved dress with a round neck deeper than most, and half a dozen buttons down the front from the neck closing.

An olive knit shift has short sleeves and minute blue rick-rack around the neck circle, sleeve edge and across a brief pocket. A darkly printed calico shift — and this one is indeed for the very young — has the tiniest lace edging around the neck and the edge of the long, granny sleeves. Even a bit of lace down the front, so shy you can barely see it.

APPLES? YES!

And Even Peaches. This is the year that wasn't for peaches, as they will tell you at Terhune Orchards, Cold Soil Road. You can buy peaches, we hasten to add: splendid freestones (the pits stick a bit in a wet year like this one) like Summercrest, so wonderful for canning, and later the white Hales, but the quantity is small.

Apples, at the Terhune Orchards, are big and fat and juicy from all the rain. Right now, there are the green and tart early McIntosh and soon the Wealthies and the Lobo McIntosh.

All the green — you can almost see the tartness — is piled into half bushels ($2), or the four-quart basket (65¢) or the bigger $1.25 container. Prices depend on size of apple and size of container.

In mid-September, Terhune will begin the true McIntosh, Stayman Winesap, red and gold Delicious and all the rest of the tumbling autumnal cornucopia. Terhune-pressed sweet cider will be on hand the last of September or early October. The orchard waits until the varieties are just right for the proper blend.

But getting back to peaches . . . in January, we had a long, warm spell followed by extreme cold in February. The warmth brought the sap to surface and forced the buds, and the cold snapped everything right back.

Apple buds are protected by leaves, but peach buds are exposed to all the bitter cold, and the seven and one-half Terhune peach acres didn't have a peach blossom this spring.

Terhune rents an orchard across the road. It's on slightly higher ground with older and taller trees, and here there are peaches. At first, it was thought that this orchard was bare, too, but then somebody saw all the growth at the tops of the trees. Peaches at the top actually had to be thinned out. Lower down on the trees — not a single fruit.

Canners who want to know about those Summercrests and Hales are invited to call after September 1 (921-9389) to see what the picking schedule is likely to be.

Meanwhile, with the peach crop the way it is, Terhune is closed on Sundays until September 10. Go out some weekday and buy a half-bushel of the early McIntosh for a supper apple pie.

. . . And Then Some

Accessories at Ladybug this fall make you glad you need a whole new wardrobe, from fishnet stockings right on up.

With your new stockings, wear Etienne Aigner's slung-back stacked low heel shoe with its squared toe and oblong cross piece of leather (is it a buckle?) Or Villager's own mustard suede moccasin, or the clay strap flat, or the black shoe that combines a sling and a strap.

Your bag? Bright mustard or russet suede satchel from Sweden . . . tall straw cylinder . . . mustard wool pouch, flat as your tummy . . . a 14-inch-deep elephant grey bag, big as Jumbo's ear, in the same leather as a more conservative shoulder bag.

Our favorite bag is rough sand colored suede (dark green or chocolate, too) with softest black leather inside and three of the most expandable accordion compartments you ever saw.

News Of The Theatres

It has developed into a film of wide audience appeal.

The pandemonium that reigns in the first day of the new school year, the unruly students shouting in the halls, the clanging bells that never seem to stop, the frantic efforts of the teacher to enforce some kind of discipline, are all brilliantly re-created.

In episodic fashion, the film tells of the triumphs and failures of a new teacher, young and idealistic, played by Sandy Dennis. There is a good scene in which she gets a class excited about Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities." Another is a frustrating session with the school guidance counselor.

The supporting actors are first-rate. Patrick Bedford is especially effective as the disillusioned teacher. The color photography of the New York locations is excellent.

It might have been just another dissertation on juvenile delinquency, but it turns out to be much more than that. (Green Sheet) suggests for adults and mature youth.)

MUSICAL NEXT

At Sundance, Sundance will present an "off-off-broadway musical" and a program of underground films next weekend at its amphitheater at Upper Black Eddy, Pa.

"The Golden Screw," which will be performed on Friday, August 18, won an Obie Award when it was presented on the Lower East Side in New York. Tom Sanky, the author-composer, also plays the leading role of a folk singer caught up in the corruption of the pop music business.

Sundance will present its annual New American Cinema program on Saturday and Sunday, August 19 and 20. The which contain formulae used to calculate how much square footage a post office building needs.

Although a map pinpointing 12 possible post office sites never did make its way formally into evidence, it was referred to frequently by Mr. Parsons. He told the Board that the North Harrison site in the dock at the moment, was suggested to him verbally by Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini and the Planning Board early this year.

He said the post office didn't actually need more than about two and one-half acres, and he observed that four of the 12 sites had over two acres: the Italian American Sportsmen's Club; on Terhoun, 56 acres on Route One off Alexander in West Windsor, 27 acres, one block from Route 206 on Cherry Valley Road and a "big package" on River Road and the Princeton Kingston Road.

Mr. Parsons told the Board the post office liked the North Harrison site because it was on a main artery, close to where most customers lived and did their shopping.

Mr. Reiss prophesied that within 20 years, there will be another post office in at least one of the communities now served by Princeton.

"NO" TO FARRINGTON

In Primary Dispute, Charles E. Farrington will be on the Democratic primary ballot but not in the exclusive "party endorsed" column shared by Sids L. Ridolfi and Richard J. Collee. All three want to be Democratic candidates for New Jersey State Senate but only two nominations are possible.

A series of "yes," "no" rulings from various courts finally resulted on Monday in a firm "no" from the Appellate Division of Superior Court. This decision tossed Mr. Farrington to the outside of the party endorsed column.

The primary will be held on September 12. Assemblyman

SCIENTIST HONORED: Dr. Kern K. N. Chang, 91 Adams Drive, accepts the 1967 David Sarnoff Outstanding Achievement Award in Science from RCA Chairman David Sarnoff. At right is Dr. George H. Brown, 117 Hunt Drive, Executive Vice-President of Research and Engineering at RCA. The award, consisting of a gold medal, a bronze replica, a citation and cash, was given to Dr. Chang "for original contributions to the basic understanding of microwave phenomena and for the invention and development of superior microwave components."

Farrington said on Tuesday that he will not appeal.

Joseph Bash, Mercer County Democratic Chairman, had refused to give Mr. Farrington a place in the "endorsed" column. Mr. Farrington claimed that William Paley, Mercer County Clerk, had the final decision.

But the Appellate Division said "We are of the firm opinion that the campaign manager's 'no' was the end of it."

Mr. Farrington claims that he will be overlooked by voters if he isn't in the "endorsed" column, but the court says it thinks that all candidates will have "a very high visibility at the top of the ballot and this will not confuse or mislead the voters."

HOME ENTERED

On Mansgrove Road, Township police are investigating the theft of $30 and an undetermined amount of jewelry from the home of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Stoy, 196 Mansgrove Road, between 10 a.m. and noon on Monday.

Entrance was gained by breaking a small pane of glass on french doors leading into the dining room. Two bedrooms were ransacked, police said.

Police also report that a cement finishing machine valued at $495 was taken from the site of the Houghton building on Alexander Street sometime between August 2 and 3.

For Man in Car Crash. Frank Pierini, 67, of Phoenix, Ariz., remained in critical condition Tuesday afternoon from injuries suffered in a two-car crash in West Windsor Township at 10:15 p.m. Friday.

 car hit an auto driven by Clifford L. Reed of Village Road West, Princeton Junction, at the intersection of Post Road and Village Road west.
 Mr. Reed's wife, Kay, and their two boys, Brian, 7, and Keith, 4, were treated at the hospital for cuts and bruises and released. State trooper Richard Burns said Mr. Pierini was driving north on Post Road, when he failed to halt at a stop sign and struck the Reed car.

APARTMENTS?
 And Classrooms. A proposal to build garden apartments at the foot of Evelyn Place came so briefly before the Borough Planning Board Tuesday night that the light was turned off almost before it was lit.
 Attorney Thomas C. Jamieson Jr. told the Board his appearance was very informal, designed only for a probing session with Board members. He said he and his client hadn't even approached the owner of the property.

At this point, Frank C. Vomacka, 8 Evelyn Place, told the Board that he and his wife owned the property in question, and Mrs. Vomacka protested discussion of her property in a public meeting as an invasion of privacy.

Mrs. Vomacka said she never told what real estate agents were interested in the Vomacka property, and said she received harassing phone calls from people who wanted to sign up for an apartment. She added that she had learned of the Planning Board meeting only a few hours before it began.

Mr. Jamieson, in some embarrassment, then told Arthur P. Morgan, chairman of the Board, that for the time being, he would like to forget the whole thing.

"YES" TO WESTMINSTER For Temporary Classrooms. "We looked across the street and there they were," explained Dr. Lee Bristol, president of Westminster Choir College to the Borough Planning Board Tuesday night.

The Board had called a special meeting to hear Westminster's request for a recommendation to the Zoning Board for a permit to erect a two room temporary classroom building on its Walnut Lane campus. The campus is across from Princeton High School which has quite a cluster of temporary classroom buildings, and it is these buildings that inspired Dr. Bristol when he looked across Walnut Lane.

Westminster's president told the Board his college expects

Check Forger at Work

Borough police are looking for a tall, heavy-set, dark complexioned man in his late forties, who has forged two checks totalling more than $250 against the names of Raymond and Beulah Grover, 33 Chestnut Street.

Last Thursday, The Cellular, 174 Nassau, cashed a $132 check for the man, who had forged Mr. Grover's signature on a check bearing his and his wife's names. He bought $32 worth of liquor, took half of it, and asked the store to deliver the rest to "20 Woodside Drive," which proved to be fictitious. On Monday, Nassau Savings & Loan reported to police that it had cashed a $125 check, last Wednesday, which also bore the forged signature of Mr. Grover.

Pt. Ralph Procaccio is investigating.

350 students this fall, and plans to enroll 25-30 additional students each year toward a goal of 500.

This means classroom pressure, he said. Four rooms in the Administration Building are currently in classroom use, he told the Board, and dormitory lounges are used as classrooms during the day and cleared each evening for leisure use. He said he plans to have 30 students in each of the two new portable classrooms.

The new temporary building will be in the northeast part of the campus, 125 feet from its eastern boundary and screened from houses fronting Linden Lane by existing trees and shrubs.

Dr. Bristol said he expects the pair of new classrooms to last for five to ten years, and he told the Board he doesn't expect to be back next year asking for more.

The Board recommended that the Zoning Board grant the permit. Public hearing will be held at the Zoning Board meeting next Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Engineering Building.

THE Wikler. SHOE BY BUSTER BROWN.

The Wikler shoe by Buster Brown has a flared end broadened fan-shaped toe outline. It's curved to follow every natural line of your child's foot. More wiggle room for toes. Provides freedom to flex, exercise and grow. A Wikler shoe is made with the very softest uppers. No irritating inside seams or stiff metal shanks to chafe or chafe. Just natural shape and give.

And the feeling of "going barefoot with shoes on".

Service Commended.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
My busy life sometimes enables me to participate only in church-radio.

May I commend the Pseukay service from St. Andrews as worthy of wider use? Perhaps on TV or in nationwide corporate worship. It came over the air as a format like "White America" or "Spoon River."

Squibb Protest Continues

To the Editor of Town Topics:

One hopes that Mrs. Harrison's good and forceful letter to Mr. Richard M. Furland, president of E. R. Squibb & Co., printed in last week's papers, may shake him in his determination to build in an area until recently zoned for residential use only. Mr. Furland, who lived here for while a long time ago, might be expected to have some regard for the special characteristics of the town of Princeton and to care a little about the feelings of his erstwhile fellow-townpeople, but instead he seems bent on destroying what he can. It should be pointed out to the people connected with a company that rides roughshod over the feelings of the communities concerned that they can hardly expect to find themselves welcomed by residents of these communities.

If Squibb builds on Province Line Road, all Princeton residents not only those living in that part of the Township, will be adversely affected in obvious ways. The Borough cannot act in the matter, but the Township can, and residents who want to block this capricious ordinance, which would radically change the environs of Princeton, should let their Committee know immediately, this week, before the Committee meets to discuss the question of bringing suit against Lawrence Township.

I am sending copies of this letter to Mr. Furland and Mr. Beckwith, president of Squibb Pharmaceutical.

program will include Andy Warhol's "Mario Banana" and George Kuchar's "Eclipse of the Sun Virgin."

COMEDY NEXT

At Bucks Playhouse. "The Ninety-Day Mistress," a new comedy by J. J. Coyle, will open at the Bucks County Playhouse for a two-week pre-Broadway tryout on Monday. The play stars Martin Milner, Ruth Ford and Walter Abel.

Milner is a veteran of several television shows, including "Route 66" in which he played one of the leads for five years. Miss Ford has appeared in several Broadway plays, most recently the Tyrone Guthrie revival of "Dinner at Eight." Mr. Abel most recently appeared in "The Pleasure of His Company" on Broadway.

The production is being directed by Philip Rose. "She Loves Me" will continue at the Playhouse this weekend.

MINSKY'S IS HERE

At Lambertville Circus. Minsky's Burlesque Folies, appearing for the first time in a summer tent show, is currently at the Lambertville Music Circus through Sunday.

Heading the list of girls are Lisa Duran and Monique Monet. Miss Duran is a converted adagio dancer "tired of not being caught when thrown in the air," while Miss Monet was discovered performing in the Far East by a Minsky scout. Also included in the revue is singer Frankie Vail.

Show times are 8:30 Thursday and Friday, 6:00 and 9:45 on Saturday and 7:30 Sunday. Following Minsky's Burlesque will be the Robert Goulet Show, starring Robert Goulet with Norm Crosby, August 22-26.

Distorted Sense of Values.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

If what is lightly referred to as the Squibb Squabble continues to arouse many Lawrence Township residents to fighting indignation it is because of the values, or lack of them, it has brought into play. At least to this interested listener at the public and, sometimes, not so public hearings there were two aspects which cannot and should not be passed over.

The first concerns the arguments advanced by those in favor of a hastily arranged rezoning of a rural and residential area to allow Squibb and others like it to come in. Quite simply these boil down to just one taxes.

Even the demagogic high lights were variations on the same theme. A speaker would arise and proudly state that he paid his taxes and did not have a Ph.D. From then on we heard that he lived in the fumes and noise of traffic and that the opposition — i.e. North Lawrence — should live in them, too, that this was the way of progress in a changing world, that those opposed to such a good "ratable" as Squibb lived in ivory towers (presumably sealed off from realities as the paying of taxes) selfishly preventing the advent of Squibb and the tax lightened burden of its unquestioning converts.

There was never a word about the dangers of air pollution and the evils of creeping industrialism; never a thought about what happens to people when there are no more open spaces, woods and streams and clear skies; never a word a about creating parks in those congested areas that were to be spread across the countryside; never a mention of pride and love for our land, of concern for the young people who would be growing up on it. No. The theme was just on taxes in a materialistic, tax-paying world.

This leads to the second aspect: the lack of any information on the results of rezoning and the plans for facing them. The imposition of a huge Squibb complex was featured that is, if something can be featured incorporeally without lace or form or size — in a vacuum against a blank background.

Only the opposition produced maps of the master plan and proposed highways for the whole region. Only the opposition brought in city planners and architects to point up the problems inherent in our already existing megalopolis and the chaos we will face without future planning and law-abiding respect for the same.

Now, if another U.S. 1 is to be stretched down Route 206, if the intersection of Province Line Road with 206 is to be made one for big industrial complexes who want Princeton as their address, I want to be told why this marks progress and why this is for the common good. I'm not satisfied with the brush-off "there will always be traffic problems." (Well then, what about death and taxes?)

Either those members of the Lawrence Township Committee who voted for the rezoning ordinance have not given thought to what changes this will bring about, or, if they have, they are not telling us. As an adult, tax-paying citizen I don't like such mystification and what it may hide.

This is why I oppose the imposition of Squibb or any other rich corporation in an area not designed for industrial use.

This is why I feel it is time to consider just what values we do stand for.

TIFFIN HARPER

Province Line Road

Objections to Tree Spraying.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Following is the text of a letter we have written to the Mercer County Highway Department:

It is justified, no doubt, to spray the trees of a residential area with insecticide during the summer months. The way in which this is done, however, is not.

Between 7 and 7:15 p.m. last Friday, August 11, your truck invaded our street and without warning enveloped the entire neighborhood in a stinking, suffocating white cloud which blocked vision for several minutes. Since at this time small children, among them toddlers, were still playing on the sidewalk, the hazard to their lives was considerable. It takes only seconds to create an accident; for example, a toddler, not being able to see the street and choked by the smoke, might have wandered in front of your truck as it made its return journey on our dead end street. We request that next time

a) come at night, after the children are off the street, and b) give advance notice of your truck's visit to our neighborhood, so that residents have adequate opportunity to seek cover and bring their children indoors, not to speak of closing their windows.

As it is, your thoughtlessness contributes to the uncivilized nature of American life, where technology is utilized indiscriminately without questioning its adverse effects on human beings.

David Funk: Last-Minute Decision Never Regretted

KNOW YOUR POLICEMAN (Fourth In a Series)

Township Badge No. 15. The wearer of Badge No. 15, Ptl. David A. Funk almost waited too long before deciding to apply for the Township police force, which he joined less than three years ago in October, 1964.

"I decided to join when I was 29," he recalled. "I just made it; the age limit is 30."

Ptl. Funk was born 32 years ago in Trenton, where he grew up, graduating from Trenton High School in 1953. He represents one of the new breed, as it were, of patrolmen both in the Township and Borough who have come from outside Princeton.

"When I first came here the only roads I knew were Route 206 and Valley Road." (Township headquarters is located at their intersection.) But he learned fast. A visitor came in at the time and asked for directions to Newlin Road and Ptl. Funk ticked off the proper combination of lefts and rights as if he were a native. "It took me about a month to learn them all," he said.

"It's in the Family." Actually, some phases of police work were not entirely new to Ptl. Funk. He reported that he had become interested in police work after leaving the Navy in 1957. In the seven years prior to joining the force he had been a special officer in Hamilton Township, working traffic control at fairs, outings and church crossings.

His decision to give up his

job as foreman's clerk at J.A. Roebeling in Trenton — a job he had held for eight years — drew no opposition from his wife. "She's used to it," he said. Her father is a captain in the Hamilton Township police department. She's had it all her life.

What satisfaction has he had in his brief career as a policeman? "The satisfaction of helping to put some away that belong there," he said. "And I like to meet people; I'm enjoying it being a policeman." "Of course, we could always use a few more men. The more patrols we have, the better protection we give the people." (Township police have to cover about 17 square miles compared to less than two for Borough police.)

"Died In My Arms." Asked if he could recall any experiences he had had on duty that stood out, Ptl. Funk picked one that took place when he had been on the force about a year. "The night Freddie Wilson was killed in front of the Starr Inn, Sgt. Nini and I were the first two officers to arrive. He was bleeding from wounds in the chest and a main artery. I administered first aid but he died in my arms."

In another somewhat humorous incident, Ptl. Funk recalled the night he and Ptl. Anthony Pinelli responded to an attempted burglary at the service station in the Princeton Shopping Center. The two officers spotted the suspects' car and gave chase but it turned into a high-speed merry-go-round when the rattled crooks were unable to find either of the two shopping center exits.

"We circled the center a couple of times," said Ptl. Funk, "and kept shouting over our radio, 'They don't know how to get out of here.' But by the time a second patrol car arrived, the crooks had smashed their car into a rail fence and fled into a wooded area. One of them was picked up later in Hamilton Township."

After high school and two years at Roebeling, Ptl. Funk joined the Navy. He was stationed aboard the U.S.S. Forrestal in the damage control section.

"We were alerted during the Suez crisis," he said. "We were in Florida at the time and we were ordered to the Azores for operations but we never did enter the Mediterranean."

A big man — 61, 216 pounds — Ptl. Funk did not play basketball in school — "I had a car and I had to work to pay for it and keep it running."

But he did play later in a Trenton Industrial League. Now he reports he has little time for any hobbies.

"I like to do a little swimming in the summer and I've tried skiing. I like that very much. Both my wife and I enjoy it and I'm looking forward to doing more. The farthest north we've been so far is Bel Air Mountain in New York."

Ptl. Funk and his wife, Barbara, have a son Mark, 6, and a daughter, Marina, 2. He was recently named financial secretary for Princeton's Police Benevolent Association 130.

Over 40 Years Experience In Princeton

...or do it the easy way with a P-B Checking Account

Paying your bills with Princeton Bank checks saves two ways:

- saves you the time required to pay in person
- provides proof positive with your cancelled checks

Carrying cash to pay bills presents some problems these days. The mere need to travel from place to place takes time. And if you're carrying a lot of cash you might find trouble and loss.

Much better indeed to have a personal checking account at the Princeton Bank. Then, a few minutes with your check book and you can meet your obligations promptly and efficiently. Your return cancelled checks serve as the best kind of receipts.

The best walk you can take is right to the nearest Princeton Bank office to open your own personal checking account. After that let Uncle Sam do your walking.

Calling All Home Makers HERE ARE SOLUTIONS TO BEDROOM DECORATING PROBLEMS

By Walter L. Harris

HARRIS

One of the most difficult rooms to decorate effectively is the bedroom.

But there are a variety of simple decorating devices that can be used to fill your furniture into your bedroom with maximum usefulness and eye appeal. The National Assn. of Bedding Manufacturers has prepared some ideas which we're happy to pass along to you.

For instance, you can blend your bed beautifully into the background of the room. This could mean a patterned spread matched to wallpaper or fabric on the head board wall; or use a solid spread in a shade just a bit lighter than the carpet. Exciting effects, too, can be created by applying the same pattern or stripe to spread, walls and draperies.

Another idea to get a decorator effect in your bedroom is to eliminate the headboard of the bed. Distinctive, imaginative substitutes can be found. Oversize bolster pillows; a low-hung grouping of colorful framed pictures; a dramatic panel of wallpaper — any of these might be used.

As far as the placement of the bed goes, we'll discuss that — and some other bedroom ideas — in our next column. Watch for it next week.

Old-Style Political Pro Calls It Quits

"ORGANIZATION MAN"
Ed Sweeney Retires. "I am an organization man and I will be behind the organization's candidate 100%," stated Edward J. Sweeney, earlier this month after his decision not to run for a fifth term in the Assembly was announced by Joseph Bash, County Democratic Chairman.

Ed Sweeney, born in Princeton on Alexander Street in 1913, has been in Democratic organization politics since he cast his first vote as a new 21-year-old in 1934, and in Princeton politics since the '40's. He voted for Roosevelt right down the line, and his convictions were so firm in 1940 that he made a bet with Elmer Stout that if Wendell L. Willkie won the presidency, Stout would push Sweeney from Princeton to Kingston in a wheelbarrow.

Well, everybody knows how that one came out. The two made the same bet every presidential year, and although Sweeney had moments of cold sweat during the Truman-Dewey contest in 1948, he ended up the same grinning wheelbarrow passenger (see photo) when the tally was all in. "We did it again in 1952 with Eisenhower and Stevenson — I lost that one —" Sweeney recalls, "but after that we both weighed close to 300 pounds, so we called it off."

Ed Sweeney entered Princeton Democratic politics by serving as Committeeman for the Borough's District Two. He was campaign manager for Raymond F. Male in '57 and '59 when Mr. Male ran successfully for mayor, and was president of the Princeton Democratic Club in '58, '61 and '64. He ran successfully for State Assembly in '59, '61, '63 and '65, with sharply increasing pluralities each time. As a member and officer of Local 3355, United Steelworkers of America, De Laval Turbine, Inc., Trenton, he introduced either alone or with his colleagues, innumerable bills: 887 in '67-'68 alone. Most of these were concerned with safety requirements for workers, workmen's compensation, better pay working conditions for state employees, more money for professional firemen's pensions. His name appeared on almost all migrant labor bills.

FREE RIDE TO KINGSTON: When Ed Sweeney correctly picked Harry Truman to win the 1948 election, he got a free ride to Kingston. The loser, and "chauffeur," is Elmer Stout.

His first bill, as a freshman, made it possible for adjoining communities (that is, Princeton Borough and Township) to join in Federally-financed public housing. He sponsored the 92-A by-pass bills and at least got the road part way on the road.

A tough and horny pro at politics, Mr. Sweeney was cited by the new Community Democratic Organization as the chief reason they pulled out of the Princeton Democratic Association. "One-man boss rule," was the phrase used at the time of the split, and the one-man boss was Ed Sweeney.

Now in poor health, rejected in his bid to become president of his union (he had been before), faced with certain defeat if he ran for the Assembly because re-apportionment removed his vital Trenton-Ewing area of support, Ed Sweeney will concentrate this fall on local politics. He's still an organization man.

FOOTBALL: OUTLOOK—II

(This is the second in a series of four articles on Princeton's football prospects for 1967.)

Sophomores Are Strong. "Next fall," observed freshman football coach Pep McCarthy, "I'll have to go back to coaching." He was discussing the Class of 1970—very possibly the best all-around group of athletes ever to come to Princeton—and implying strongly that they were such a do-it-themselves bunch that the coach had little to do with their unbeaten season.

This is hardly the case—a good reason for openers is the fact that virtually none of them had ever played single wing football before arriving on the Princeton campus. McCarthy was simply saying that he could hardly expect material like that again, and that the

ANOTHER IACAVAZZI? Ellis Moore, sophomore fullback, may give Princeton's football team the same type of running ability that Cosmo Iacavazzi did from 1962-64. For a look at the potential of this year's top sophomores, see story, this page.

Varsity was sure to benefit greatly from the upcoming sophomores.

The freshmen who defeated Yale by 14-0 in the mud and rain at New Haven last November thereby capped an unbeaten season, marred only slightly by a 6-6 tie with a good Harvard eleven. The other scores (Rutgers, 19-14; Cornell, 21-0; Penn., 27-20; Columbia, 34-6), the class thus becoming the first in 10 years to complete a six-game schedule without a loss.

That this is a considerably better than average sophomore crop is undeniable. It is big (a leading defensive end candidate is 6-4, 220; a center with high school single wing experience is 6-3, 212; a promising quarterback is 6-0, 210). Its victories were based on considerable extent on speed and mobility. It is also, inevitably, largely inexperienced by varsity standards.

"For Every Sophomore..." In the days prior to two-platoon football, a leading Ivy League coach once said, "For every sophomore you have to start, you can generally count on losing a game." In the days when your top 11 players went both ways, it was a remark that made good sense; if your holdover material was weak enough so that four first-year players could crack your starting lineup, chances were that you might have no better than a 5-4 season.

An absence of sophomores in Princeton's lineup—even in this era of two platoons—has apparently worked well for the Tigers in the past three seasons. In 1964, only Walk Kozumbo earned a regular's status by opening the next season, it was Lee Hitchner; last September, no sophomore started the Rutgers game. During those three years, Princeton won 23 and lost 4. (Worth noting, obviously, is the fact that Kozumbo and Hitchner progressed to the point where they earned team captaincies.)

While the Tigers enter the 1967 sweepstakes clearly labelled as a logical first-division team, it is probable that they will have a larger number of sophomores starting than at any time in the past decade. The situation is akin to a jigsaw puzzle: in several cases, the Class of 1970 can furnish one of its best players for a position where the varsity has been hit hardest by graduation.

This is so on offense at end, center, quarterback and fullback; and on defense at end, linebacker and in the deep secondary. Barring injury to veteran holdovers on the varsity, the maximum number of sophomores likely to start is seven. Chances appear to be about even that four or possibly five may make it—a sharp contrast to other years in the current decade, when even Cosmo Iacavazzi rode the bench at the kickoff in his sophomore season.

Before pre-season practice begins at Blairtown, the coaching staff has given the nod to ten players as "sophomores to watch." Others may develop as the season progresses, or may be pressed into use if severe personnel shortages develop, but these ten appear to be the best bets for key contributions to the 1967 season.

Ends: One on offense—Mark Biros, 6-1, 197—and two on defense, Tom Hutchinson, 6-4 220, and Jim Nixon, 6-0, 185. Biros, a top member of last year's freshman team, may make it on a combined basis of his ability and the fact that left end has been virtually cleaned out with the graduation of Pete Zeitzoff and Bill Potter.

Hutchinson, an offensive tackle and defensive end last year, has a number of good holdover tackles ahead of him on offense and a letterman, Charlie Baby, who may get the nod at defensive end on previous experience. He has unusually high potential, however, and should fit into the 1967 picture quickly. Nixon, smaller in stature, has unusual speed and ability. All three players were All-State selections in high school: Biros in New Jersey, Hutchinson in Pennsylvania, Nixon in Kansas.

Tackles: As recently as a decade ago, it was a rare occasion when a player reached 235 pounds during his varsity career. Now they are coming up that way: sophomore Bob Hews, a topflight prospect, is 6-5, 235, and can go either way. Expectations are he'll fill a defensive berth, since his size is backed by both speed and ability. All-State in Maine for two seasons, he was a schoolboy All-American in his senior year.

Guards: None. Center: Not since the freshmen had their last unbeaten team in 1956 has a center come up to the varsity with sufficient ability to win the job as a sophomore and hold it for three years. Frank Szvetcz did from '57 through '59 and Bill Schopf may be his successor in such a role, exactly ten years later. Schopf played single wing football at New Trier High in Illinois, and the experience gained in the lead snaps to single wing backs and the 12-yard spirals to the punter is invaluable. Standing 6-3, weighing 212, he has no varsity holdover with much experience ahead of him and appears to have the potential to nail the job down for keeps.

Wingbacks: None. Quarterbacks: Jonathan Wright may not match Schopf in ability to start the Rutgers game, but he, too, is a sophomore of unusual promise who has had the 1966 incumbents at his position removed by graduation. Captain of the unbeaten freshmen, Wright chose his plays well and blocked with marked ability last fall. He stands 6-0, weighs a solid 210.

Fullbacks: As winner of the Lourie Award, Ellis Moore was voted the top player on a team which did not lose a game. As a fullback who is compared by Pep McCarthy to Cosmo Iacavazzi, Moore has an extremely bright future ahead of him. In addition to marked running and blocking ability, he'll succeed Bill Berkley as the punter.

Tailbacks: Fred Wiechec

has a question mark in his future: will he work behind two proven varsity holdovers (tailbacks Rich Bracken and Bob Weber) to provide added depth to the position, or will he be switched to another, more open, backfield position? At 6-1, 205, he has the build for a fullback and the frame for the blocking assignments that either a fullback or a wingback inherit. Princeton's coaching staff dearly loves ability to vary its attack by having a passer to supplement the pitching done by the tailbacks. Wiechec may see heavy duty in a reserve capacity elsewhere than at tailback this fall.

Linebackers: As big as Bob Hews at 235, Ron Miles is slated for considerable use either as a linebacker or defensive tackle. He held down the former slot as a freshman. A three-sport captain at high school in Winthrop, Mass., he was All-State and All-American there in football.

Defensive Backs: Another topflight Massachusetts athlete, Arnold Holtberg, is expected to see a great deal of action as a sophomore this fall. Alert, durable, versatile (he caught for and captained the freshman baseball team), he can also play tailback and has placekicking experience. At 6-2 and 215, Holtberg should develop into one of the key players of his class.

(Next Week: Tentative Lineup)

NEW HOCKEY COACH: Herbert G. (Bill) Quackenbush, a standout defenseman in the National Hockey League for 14 years, has been named to replace John Wilson as head coach of hockey at Princeton University.

SOPHOMORE TO WATCH: Tom Hutchinson, 6-4, 220, played both offensive tackle and defensive end on last year's unbeaten freshman team. He figures to be part of the varsity picture this fall.

QUACKENBUSH NAMED
To Coach Tiger Skaters, Hubert G. (Bill) Quackenbush, a 14-year veteran of the National Hockey League, has been named head coach of hockey at Princeton. R. Kenneth Fairman, Director of Athletics, has announced.

The Canadian-born Quackenbush, an outstanding defenseman and five-time member of the N.H.L. all-star team, played seven seasons with the Detroit Red Wings and seven with the Boston Bruins. In 1948-49 he won the Lady Byng trophy for sportsmanship and outstanding ability, playing 137 straight games without drawing a penalty.

An assistant coach at Northeastern University for the past two seasons, Quackenbush, 45, succeeds John E. Wilson, Princeton's coach for 1965-66 and 1966-67, who resigned three weeks ago to accept the position of general manager and coach of the Springfield Indians in the American Hockey League.

Since his retirement from professional hockey in 1956, Quackenbush, a resident of Wellsley, Mass., has been associated in executive positions with industrial and engineering firms in the Greater Boston area and for the past two years has been New England sales manager for Inland Steel products, Milwaukee, Wis.

A graduate of Western Technical School in Toronto in 1941, Quackenbush received an associate in civil engineering degree from Lincoln Institute, Northeastern University in 1962. While concentrating on hockey, he has also maintained an active interest in soccer and will assist with Princeton's program in that sport. He is married and the father of three sons.

3 WINS IN TENNIS
At Trenton Championships. Three young Princetonians won in their respective divisions in the Trenton City Junior championships held last week at Cadwalader Park.

Darin Hicks won the girls 12-and-under singles, downing Vicki Harris of Trenton, 6-0, 6-2. Mary Lapidus whipped Vicki Patterson of Philadelphia, 6-1, 6-0, to capture the 14-and-under girls singles, and finished second in the girls 16-and-under, losing to top seeded Ellen Fernberger of Philadelphia.

In the boys singles, 12-and-under, Rob Kraft bested Pat Murray of Philadelphia, 6-0, 3-6, 6-3. Steve Tobolsky and Kevin McCarthy were runners-up in the boys doubles 14-and-under. Elizabeth Hoffman was a semi-finalist in the girls singles 14-and-under and also in the doubles with Mary Hurst.

Others who participated were: Richard Magee, Duncan Brown, Robbie Sonnenschein, Billy Janney, Bill Tobolsky, Erica Dumpel, Terry Blake and Chip Cruice.

A large contingent of boys will travel to Philmont Country Club, outside Philadelphia, for the Eastern Pennsylvania championships starting Monday. Car pools will be arranged and anyone needing transportation should call Mrs. Tyler Janney, 924-0208 or give their name to Dede Shipway at the University courts.

CARRON ENDS UNBEATEN

In Business Softball. A sparkling four-hit shutout by Bill Gahagan over Accelerator gave Columbian Carbon its 16th consecutive victory and a perfect season's record, the first team in the history of the Business Softball League to finish undefeated.

With the season over, the top four teams entered playoffs to determine the league champion. The first round puts ERC against Carbon and Shell against RCA A in the eastern division, while American Cyanamid takes on RCA Astro and Accelerator plays McGraw-Hill in the western division. All series are best out of three.

In Carbon's 10-0 triumph over Accelerator, Gahagan held on to a slim 1-0 lead until the fifth, when a key hit by Alex Golembeski broke the contest wide open.

McGraw-Hill finished in second place behind RCA Astro in the eastern division, downing RCA A, 4-0. Bob LoPresto allowed the heavy hitting RCA A batters just three hits, while Tom Briel and Jim Maher collected two hits apiece for McGraw-Hill. RCA crushed ERC, 25-1, in a make-up game.

ETS combined a balanced hitting attack, tight defense and some good pitching to defeat Carbon and Shell, 8-3, and finish the season at the .500 mark. Tom Wohlhueter and Jim Jackson had three hits each for the winners.

In other games, ERC edged Cyanamid, 4-3, Hopewell TV dropped EMR, 7-6, Astro outslugged the Telephone Work-

Here are the highlights of a Moscow newspaper's report on Soviet pharmacies: (1) Drugs are often unavailable — because authorities decree when pharmaceutical houses may or may not produce specific drugs. (2) A patient waits an average of 24 hours to get a prescription filled. (3) Prescription prices are often artificially raised — so that the pharmacy can meet a government "sales quota." Things like this just don't happen under America's free enterprise system of manufacturing and selling drugs.

Dunham, Miss Shipway Win. Dede Shipway and Alden Dunham won the YMCA doubles tennis tournament last week, beating Nina Moyer and Jim Wickenden, 6-3, 6-4, at the University courts.

On their way to the finals, Miss Shipway and Dunham defeated Mrs. Newell Woodworth and Walter Powers, 6-4, 6-3, while Miss Moyer and Wickenden downed Virginia Minor and Charles Westoff, 6-3, 8-6. LIONS WIN TITLE

In Nahe Ruth League. A 14-2 victory over MacKenzie Realty gave the Lions Club the championship of the West Windsor Bahe Ruth League last Thursday evening at Dutch Neck School field.

Pitcher Jeff Haring won his seventh consecutive game without a defeat in league competition, limiting MacKenzie to two hits and fanning 13. J. B. Wright and Pete Zigler got the only safeties off Haring.

The Lions jumped off to a three run lead in the first on singles by Dave Zapicchi, Rod Caldwell and Haring. Eight walks and four errors enabled them to score 10 more in the sixth.

MacKenzie took the second-half title with a 4-2 win over Locar Hardware earlier in the week. Dave Fry scattered five singles for the win, while Denie McClenahan blasted a brace of doubles.

An upset victory by Will's Shell knocked the Lions out of the second-half title, making the playoff necessary. Playing their third game in three days, the Lions ran short of pitching, and lost 15-2. Jeff Wetterling pitched for Will's.

Team and individual awards will be presented at a family day outing at Dutch Neck School beginning at 1 p.m., Sunday, September 10.

SWIMMERS TO COMPETE

In Junior Olympics. Twenty-two Princeton swimmers will compete this weekend in the New Jersey Junior Olympics at Fayson Lakes. The number reflects the increase in interest in competitive swimming since 1965, when three Princeton swimmers went to the meet.

Participants were chosen in a series of eight qualifying meets. The fastest swimmers in each event were chosen for the finals along with two alternates for each age group.

Most of the swimmers have been working this summer at the Rocky Hill and Pine Brae Pools with Ed and Bruce Nyström. Many have also practiced with Bob Clotworthy and at the Community Pool.

Princeton youngsters in the finals will be:

Girls, 10 and under: Margaret Jillson, 50-meter breaststroke; Robin Berry, 50-meter backstroke; Susan Buhler, 200-meter individual medley; Margaret Jillson, Julie Newton, Dede O'Hara and Carol McGrath, freestyle relay.

Boys, 10 and under: Jerry McMahon, 500-meter freestyle.

Girls, 11 and 12: Martha Lasley, 50 and 100 meters freestyle; Dede Henneman and Cathy Kroeschell, 100-meter butterfly; Joanne Schwartz, 50-meter freestyle; freestyle relay, Martha Lasley, Dede Henneman, Cathy Kroeschell and Joanne Schwartz, freestyle relay.

CHOIR COLLEGE TO BUILD DORMITORY: Westminster Choir College expects to begin construction of this $1 million women's residence hall later this year. Designed by Fulmer & Bowers, architects, the two-story building will accommodate 152 students. Third floor is a proposed addition which may be added in the future as the college's needs require.

BUSINESS In Princeton

NEW DORM PLANNED
For Choir College. Construction is expected to begin later this year for a new $1 million women's residence hall for Westminster Choir College, designed by Fulmer & Bowers, architects, 341 Nassau Street. Occupancy is planned for the fall of 1968.

The dormitory will accommodate 152 students in three two-story sections, each housing about 50 women. The majority of the rooms will be doubles, designed in a suite arrangement for 12 to 14 occupants. A study-recreation lounge, including a small kitchenette, will be available for each group of 24 to 28 women.

Thirty three sound-controlled organ and piano practice rooms will be built in the basement for use by all members of the student body. A large student recreation room and faculty lounge, a laundry room and a storage area are also planned.

Fulmer & Bowers has completed the design for a $1.5 million library for The College of Saint Elizabeth at Convent Station, for which ground was broken last month. The building will have space for 250,000 volumes, two classrooms for library science instruction and a 300-seat audio-visual auditorium.

The firm is presently at work on another educational project, a $2.7 million learning resources center for Cumberland County College in Vineland. It has already designed the complete campus of five buildings for the college, the first approved and built in the state under the Higher Education Facilities Act of 1953.

Fulmer & Bowers has designed a variety of buildings not only in the Princeton area, but throughout the state and much of the country. In addition to projects for several educational institutions, the firm has completed designs for numerous industrial, communications and research concerns.

AWARDS ANNOUNCED

To RCA Personnel. Six scientists at RCA Laboratories have been awarded David Sarnoff Outstanding Achievement Awards, RCA's highest technical honors.

Dr. Keri K. N. Chang of the microwave Research Laboratory won the 1967 Sarnoff Outstanding Achievement Award in Science "for original contributions to the basic understanding of microwave phenomena and for the invention and development of superior microwave components."

Winners of the Sarnoff Outstanding Team Award in Science were Drs. James A. Amick, Marvin S. Abrahams, Ronald E. Enstrom, David Richman and James J. Tietjen of the Materials Research Laboratory and the Process and Development Laboratory.

Each recipient received a gold medal, a bronze replica, a citation and a cash award.

NOEL STEPS DOWN

At Cyanamid. Frank O. Noel has retired as manager of advertising and publicity for the Agricultural Division of American Cyanamid.

The festival service, open to the general public, concludes the first Anglo-American boy choir training course to be held in this country. The sessions are held this week at Westminster Choir College under the joint sponsorship of the College and England's Royal School of Church Music.

The Rt. Rev. Albert Van Duser, suffragan bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of New Jersey, will conduct the service, assisted by the Rev. Canon William Workman of Washington Cathedral. A half-hour organ recital by Joan H. Lippincott, head of Westminster's organ department, will precede the service.

a five-run ninth by the all-stars that put the game on ice.

No. 1 picked up a run in the third on a double by Greg Kline and an error, and three more in the fourth on four walks, a single by Mike Diamond and a wild pitch. Tony Bailey, Kevin Tylus, Breezy Boccanfuso, John Mooney and McGuinn shared the pitching for the all-stars, allowing seven hits and striking out 16.

Kline, Dave Harwood and Bill Schilling led the hitting attack for No. 1. The latter two plus Bobby King did the pitching.

LODGE ALL-STARS WIN

In First Round Action. The Princeton Motor Lodge 10-12 All-Stars backed fine pitching by Bill Schilling Monday evening with a 14-hit attack to win their first game in the National PAL Baseball Tournament.

The victim, by a 9-2 count, was Levittown, Pa., in a contest played at Betts Field, Trenton. Schilling fanned 14, allowed three hits and benefited from good fielding. Greg Kline hit a two-run homer, Glenn Goethals had four hits in four at-bats and Breezy Boccanfuso was 3 for 3.

The Motor Lodge All-Stars represent the Princeton PBA League in the tournament. Their second round game will be played Sunday at 4 against Bristol, Pa., on the Betts Avenue diamond.

four victories in the Summer Lacrosse League. Leete provided the winners with four of their five tallies, while Gordon Hart scored twice for the losers.

It was Blue 9, Green 5, in the other game. For Blue, Scott Purvis, Sabin Snow and John Keefe all scored twice, Dave Liederman and Craig Stretch duplicating the feat for Green.

In an exhibition game staged here Sunday, a visiting team from Elizabeth battled the Princetonians to a 9-9 tie. Rain and mud dominated the action.

The season will come to a close this Thursday night at Marquand Park. If Navy (4-1) loses and Red (3-2) wins, a tie for the title will develop but a playoff is not contemplated. Hawley Waterman, league director, said, Blue has a 2-3 record and Green is 1-4.

The See and Drive New V-4 Engine

Funny, you don't look like a 4-cycle, 1498cc, 73 hp, overhead valve V-4.

Bet you still think SAAB has only one kind of engine. Our famous 2-cycle, 3-cylinder "Shrike" engine. Well don't bet on it. Because SAAB now has a new V-4 engine, too. Zero to 50 in 10 seconds. Top speeds of over 90 mph. More power for acceleration. For hills. For safer passing. (And V-4 SAABs have front wheel disc brakes, for stopping all that power.) Funny thing, but it looks like this new high-performance V-4 should make the rally-winning car in the world an even bigger winner. (That's something you can bet on.)

DREAM HOUSE FOR SALE

Built with loving care and careful planning for the comfort and ease of family living, this two-year old five-bedroom colonial can now be yours — and in time for the school year too!

Like to entertain? The welcoming center hall, large living room and pleasant dining room combine easily. Want separation for teenage doings? See the paneled sitting room with its raised fireplace, next to the custom designed kitchen for quick snacks. Guests coming? A ground floor bedroom and bath with private entrance combines with the family room to serve as an almost separate apartment for visiting in-laws.

Upstairs there are four family bedrooms (the master over the living room for further privacy) all with excellent closets, two tiled baths and a walk in storage area over the family room which makes the pull down attic area almost unnecessary. A full basement can be finished off easily — or left as is for ping pong and pool.

Add central air conditioning, oversized two car garage, black top drive, a wooded lot with the gleam of white birches, pretty and no maintenance planting. No wonder we say this is a listing that won't last long at an asking price of $69,500

CHEMIST OR CHEMICAL ENGINEER

WANT A DOOR OPENER? — OR WANT TO BE ONE? TO FUTURE OPPORTUNITIES, WE MEAN, NOT TO A HOTEL.

Chemical marketing research is about as good a training ground for the younger man as there is, assuming you want eventually to be an executive in the chemical process industries. It takes work, travel, meeting people, a certain amount of gall and guts. But our "graduates" will tell you it can be rewarding.

In any event we have openings for young chemical marketing researchers. You won't punch a time clock, but you might work a lot more than 40 hours, yet as little as twenty in any given week. You might find yourself in Alaska one week and in Florida the next. Or in Europe or Latin America. It's tough work, but it's fun. And it's about the best overall training for management responsibilities that there is anywhere.

The salaries are the same as in industry — so are the benefit plans — but the experience to be gained is much more varied. You never know what you will be studying next. In a college or university course it is all planned — here it isn't.

If you are interested, please send a resume and some indication of salary requirement to —

Rear living room has fireplace and view of the grounds, separate dining room, study with tile stove opens to a secluded stone terrace, up-dated kitchen. Three bedrooms and two baths on the second. One of a kind at $44,500

VIVA LA DIFFERENCE! In this case the only really important difference is on the price tag. This handsome hip-roofed colonial, though very similar to others in the immediate neighborhood, is priced some thousands of dollars less. True, it has no fireplace, but otherwise the space is all there. Large parquet floor living room, paneled study with open ceiling beams and bookcases, formal dining room with sliding glass doors to the lawn, wonderful kitchen with ample breakfast space and adjoining laundry-mud room. Powder room. Upstairs, 4 bedrooms and 2 full baths. Partially finished basement and two car garage. One acre on a quiet circle. We think this is one of the best buys in the Princeton market at $39,000

THREE PRINCETON TOWNSHIP BUILDING LOTS: within walking distance of all schools and shopping. Public utilities. Some shade trees. Level, workable land. A perfect package for a builder, be he beginner or old pro. $24,800

HOW TO TELL WHEN YOU'RE READY FOR A NEW JOB...

If you are temporarily out of work, you're ready.

You don't need anyone to tell you. But you may be one of the thousands of people who are in the wrong jobs.

Wrong for you. Wrong for your employers.

It's nobody's fault. It just happened. You thought you'd be interested in your work. It sounded good. The money was okay. . . . at the time.

Along the way, things have changed. Fascination has changed to boredom. Your personality loses its zip. You go home with a feeling of frustration.

Want a new start? More money? A new interest? Then pick up the phone and call us at 921-2021. Better yet come in now.
